

> ART

Works of art started as a pleasant little change in our production schedules. They have now established a place of their own.

Transforming plate metal into works of art shows our special capacities and capabilities in advanced three-dimensional forming. It also highlights what today's Deform can achieve.

The process of translating an artist's thoughts and ideas into precise production data, drawings and work operations requires highly experienced and expert personnel.

Works of art have been delivered to private buyers and public institutions in Sweden and abroad.

Collaborations with artists require the adoption of methodologies in which standards and tolerances are not central – the only limits are those set by our imaginations!

Sculpture by Norwegian artist Per Inge Bjørlo
– Hafslund Hovedgård, Norway

"Silver bow" by Pål Svensson is on show in Solna, Sweden

Designed by Frank O. Gehry, the roof of the conference hall in the DG Bank building, Berlin, was formed by Deform

Another of Per Inge Bjørlo's pieces – Akershus Festning, Norway

"Spring ball", a sculpture by Berit Lindfeldt, is in Årsta, Sweden

"Torch" by Martin Wikström